

Keshawn Hardy is a 23-year-old trumpet player born and raised on the island of St. Croix in the US Virgin Islands. He is a member of the Virgin Islands Jazz Collective and a part-time faculty for the United Jazz Foundation. Additionally, Keshawn serves as a member of the Virgin Islands' National Guard 73rd Army Band. He recently debuted with the Caribbean Music Institute Orchestra, under the guest direction of Jon Faddis. Throughout his career, Keshawn has worked with many great musicians such as Jon Faddis, Ron Blake, Melvin Jones, Steve Turre, and more. He is currently a senior at Florida State University studying Jazz Performance under the tutelage of Scotty Barnhart.